East Jordan High School Baseball Team Going Strong

DEFEAT BOTH PELLSTON AND BOYNE CITY THE PAST WEEK

Pellston High School forced the local baseball nine to come from behind to win 8 to 1 here last Thursday afternoon. Trailing 1 to 0 going into the final half of the fifth frame, the Jordanites finally came to life getting three runs in that inning and added five more in the sixth.

Don Whiteford's homerun with two men aboard in the sixth frame highlighted East Jordan's uprising against Zimkley, youthful Pellston righthander.

Ellwin "Red" Evans, local southpaw, turned in his second well-pitched game in a row to receive credit for the win. Pellston was able to garner but three hits off his lefthand slants and thirteen batsmen went down via the strike-out route. Max Sommerville formed the other half of the winning battery. Zimkley and Bonter toiled for the losers.

The "Red Devils" will travel to Mancelona Thursday afternoon (today) where they meet the always dangerous "Ironmen" at 3:00 p.m.

Umpires: Jankoviak - East Jordan
Emerson - Pellston

East Jordan's High School baseball nine turned in a brillant 5 to 1 victory over the Boyne City High School "Ramblers" here Monday afternoon. It was the third trimuph in a row for the Jordanites as Ellwin Evans hurled a three hitter chalking up his third pitching victory this spring.

Boyne pushed across its only run in the opening frame. After two were out, Saffran drew a base on balls, took second on a single to center by Mason, and came home on Pratt's drive through the center of the diamond. From the first inning on, Evans was practically invincible as he went the rest of the way issuing but two walks and an infield hit while striking out seven batsmen. East Jordan knotted the count at one all in the second as Whiteford led off with a single and was forced by Boring at second. Evans flied to center for the second out of the inning. Boring stole second and came home with the Red Deviles' first run on a single by Milstein. East Jordan took the lead with 3 more runs in the third and added another in the 5th for good measure.

E. Evans and M. Sommerville formed the winning battery with Saffran and Mason making up the losing.

Don Whiteford and S. Milstein contributed two hits each to the winning cause, while Mason, Pratt, and R. West each singled for the losers. Sommerville and E. Eavns each garnered a hit to round out the six hits off Saffran, Boyne's stellar righthander.

A pillar of the church was the elderly dowager who was endeavoring to introduce the new deacon to her somewhat deaf and rapidly Republican husband.

"Mortimer" she bellowed, "This is the new decon."

"New dealer?" he barked.

"No Mortimer, he's not a New Dealer—new deacon—he's the son of the Bishop."

"Harrumph," grunted Mortimer, "Every darn one of'em is."

Women Are Needed In Nation's Labs, Scientist Reports

CHICAGO, Ill. — Eugene Rabinowitch, editor of The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, says that Sally the scientist may become as great a necessity in the nation's long-range mobilization program as Rosie the riveter.

In an editorial the editor says the military will make a heavy drain on male science, medical and engineering students and that American women form the only untapped reservoir.

"Americans must face the distinct possibility that they may find themselves outnumbered not only in fighting men, but also— if western Europe should be lost as an ally—in scientists and technicians," he said.

"During World War II, American women in large numbers were employed in war industries and sizeable contingents joined the armed forces as useful auxiliary units.

"World War II did not witness, however, any spectacular increase in the enrollment of women in the scientific, medical, and technical departments of American colleges and no sign of such a development is visible now."

He reported that in this respect the United States is far behind the Soviet Union, where women students outnumbered male students in the fields of science, medicine, and engineering during the last war.

"The time to direct thousands of girls who graduate from high schools into these fields of study is now," he said.

To overcome reluctance of women to risk of a career in these fields, he said, the government might offer an aid program of scholarships of loans, to be repaid as a percentage of professional earnings after graduation.

He said a real shortage of scientists would appear in four to six years in view of proposals for the draft and universal military training.

Soldier's Bible Delivered To Relative 42 Years Late

AUBURN, N.Y. — The 50-year-old request of a soldier killed in the Spanish-American war has finally been fulfilled.

James Stafford, a Weedsport attorney, came across the small copy of the New Testament 10 years ago. It was found in the effects of his father, who promised to give it to the closest living relative of Edmund L. Ellis.

Ellis had given it to Capt. James Stafford, fellow member of the 71st regiment, New York national guard, and asked him to deliver it. Captain Stafford died in 1909, but his effects did not come into the hands of his son until 42 years later.

Through the veterans' administration, the surviving Stafford was able to locate Ellis' widow, Mrs. Emily A. Ellis, New York City.

Church Group Plans Edition Of Bible In Modern English

COLUMBUS, O. — The division of Christan education of the National Council of Churches of Christ reported recently that a new edition of the Bible will be ready for distribution by September 30, 1952.

The new version will be in modern English, with modern words substituted for words which long ago lost their meaning.

For instance, in 1611, date of the King James version, one of the popular meanings of the word "prevent" was "to go before." Psalms 119, verse 147, reads: "I prevented the dawning of the morning."

A modern youth reading this verse would interpret it to mean "I stopped the dawn." It doesn't mean that at all, church spokesmen said, but "I got up before dawn."

The new revised standard version of the Bible, authorized in 1937 will go to press when scholars finish translating the Old Testament. Translation of the New Testament was completed in 1946.

Dr. Luther A. Weigle, executive secretary of the translation committee of 20 scholars, explained the new translation was designed to make the Bible more understandable to young people, more appropriate for family reading, and more usable for teachers of religion.

Another example of word changing in the Old Testament was cited in the word "let," used in many passages to mean "hinder" rather than the accepted modern usage of "allow."

Ministers Protest Beer Insignia on License Plates

MADISON, Wis. — A Wisconsin legislator jokingly suggested that the state's automobile license plate be made in the shape of a beer barrel instead of carrying the slogan "America's Dairyland." As a result a number of clerymen were up in arms.

A few days later, Ben L. Marcus, motor vehicle commissioner, received a petition signed by 20 ministers "vigorously opposing" the beer barrel idea.

"We oppose to the extent," said the petition, "that we will absolutely refuse to place the licenses on our automobiles regardless of the penalty for not doing so."

Farmers Union

Farmers Union Local 364

The farmers union met at their new hall. Located on road between East Jordan and Boyne Falls on Wednesday evening May 2nd.

There were 24 members present. We had a good meeting. The two dance committee's turned in their reports on our dances they said we have a nice crowd each night, but not as big a crowd as our hall can accomodate but every one reports they had a nice time and like our music, we hire Clarence Archers Orchestra. So we decided to continue our dances both Friday and Saturday night for the time being; we hope to have a crowd large enough to fill the hall. We have a nice large yard, to park in so crowd don't have to park on the highway.

Our Local's meetings are always held first Wednesday in every month with pot luck supper after meeting. Anybody who cares to to come are welcome to come. And its a place where old friends meet and visit and also make new friends.

The aim of Farmers Union is to keep family type farmers on farm, try to cooperate, help him get a fair price for his produce, and also to buy his needs for farming and for his family at a fair price. Not le tbig business monoplize the farm land and make peasant farmers of the little farmer. Our Ancestors came to the U.S.A. to be free to worship, and, own their little homes. Lets not let them slip in to big business hands that will drive little farmers from their homes. We need cooperation of all small farmers and they need the Union.

CLEAN WALLPAPER BRIGHTENS HOUSE

Clean wallpaper does much to brighten up a home—and there are two ways to do the job, says Olevia Meyer, extension specialist in the Michigan State Colleg school of home economics.

One is the use of a commercial dough type cleaner which may be used on washable or non-washable wallpaper. The other method is washing of washable wallpaper.

If you plan to use the dough type cleaner, Miss Meyer suggests you work a ball of cleaner until it is the temperature of the hands before using. Touch paper lightly, using long, even strokes, moving the hand always in the same direction. Be sure the ball of cleaner is moving as it touches the paper and as it is lifted up.

Keep the soiled cleaner worked into the center of the ball and replace with a fresh ball when cmpletely soiled. Be sure to overlap strokes to prevent streaking and do not stroke against the edge of a seam.

If you have washable paper, the home economist suggests that you try the method first on some spot where the paper is hidden. The paper should first be cleaned with a commercial dough cleaner before washing. Use a rich thick suds of mild soap in lukewarm water.

Apply the suds freely with a cellulose sponge. Rinse with a second sponge wrung out of clean lukewarm water. When washing wallpaper, begin work at the bottom of the wall and work upward. Be careful not to stroke against the seams of the paper, which may roughen and sometimes tear.

Grease spots can be removed from papered walls by making a paste of whiting or cornstarch and corbon tetrachloride. Spread the paste over the grease spot allow to dry, then brush off.

Importance of pastures for balanced farming operations will be featured at the Grass Day programs which Michigan State College Cooperative Extension Service will sponsor during June.

FARM FACTS from your County Agricultural Agent

Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

SEED SOON FOR EMERGENCY HAY AND PASTURES:

If you're looking for a hay or pasture shortage on your farm this year, make plans for some emergency hay and pasture crops now, says Ed Rebman, County Agricultural Agent.

A good cropping program should provide for abundant production of long-lived forage crops. However, certain annual crops will serve well to give livestock the needed forage.

Certain crops are more useful than others, the farm crops specialists advise. Factors to consider are the location in the state, soil type, fertility and forage needs.

The small grains especially oats, are often harvested for hay. Oats and peas, mixed bushtel fur bushel, and planted at the rate of two and one-half to three bushels per acre, is a valuable hay mixture for upper Michigan and the northern part of lower Michigan. The mixture is ready to cut for hay when the oats are in the late milk stage and the peas are forming in the pod.

Millet and Sudan Grass can also be used for emergency hay crops.

For emergency pasture, Sudan grass planted May 20 to June 1 ns usually ready to pasture shortly after July 1. Both oats and barley planted early in the spring furnish considerable pasture in June and early July. Rape is used principally for hogs and sheep.

CUSTOM WORK AIDS PRODUCTION:

The question: "Are custom raes higher for 1951?" is often asked of county agricultural agent Ed Rebman.

To aid with the answer he cites information received from B. R. Bookhout, Michigan State College agr'l economist, who says that 1951 rates are expected to go back up to equal or in some cases go above the 1948 rates.

Not all rates will be higher, he advises. In a recent survey conducted along farmers who do custom work, about 30 percent of the farmers indicated they expected to charge mare in 1951.

Bookhout cities some example of possible increases. Where the work is a job like disking where the rate is a dollar to $1.50 an acre, the increase might be about 25 cents. For jobs such as combining where the rate is $4.00 an acre. the increase might be 50 cents. Usually custom rates do not change by five or ten cents but the rates hold steady and then change by 25 to 50 cents.

Agent Rebman says that custom work will be even more important in Charlevoix County this year, due to farm labor shortages.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

BY...DREW PEARSON

GOP Strategy

AT AN explosive Republican senatorial strategy meeting, the big GOP guns warned against tieing the Republican party too closely to MacArthur's kite.

One of those who led the warning was Senator Taft, whose friends have been worried that MacArthur might crowd him as the GOP presidential candidate in 1952.

"We don't know what MacArthur is going to say when he gets here," Taft told the strategy meeting. "As a political party we should keep out of this."

Senator Millikin of Colorado chimed in that occasionally past "conquering heroes" had come home and put their foot in their mouths. He recalled that Admiral Dewey, the conqueror of Manila, got a hero's reception and was presented with a free house, then transferred the house to his wife. Millikin also cited Charles Lindberg, who came home to a hero's welcome and later made some remarks that offended religious groups.

However, the sharpest Republican fire was concentrated on Senator Cain of Washington for putting the Republican party on the spot with his resolution declaring war on China.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who has been Secretary of State Acheson's bitter foe, actually snorted: "As far as the Cain resolution is concerned, I am on Acheson's side."

Senator Young of North Dakota warned that declaring war on China would do "more damage than anything that has happened in the Republich party in five years."

Cain Argues

However, Cain tried to defend his position by arguing that his real purpose was to "pin this war on Truman as Truman's war."

He pointed out that the President in his April 11 speech mentioned war 21 times. However, Cain's colleagues failed to follow his reasoning.

In the end, Cain insisted that he had promised to introduce the resolution and intended to go through with it. However, he agreed to make a statement that his only purpose was to focus attention on the China issue, since Truman had already got the country into war.

The most explosive outburst of the closed-door meeting came from Indiana's wild Senator Jenner. He was spurred out of his seat by a remark from Senator Taft that "no responsible Republican senator would advocate impeachment."

To this Jenner shouted angrily: "I may not be part of the responsible Republican leadership, but I have my own opinion."

He demanded immediate impeachment of President Truman and used considerable profanity in demanding it.

Senator Ecton of Montana tried to soothe Jenner by explaining that it was up to the House to bring impeachment proceedings and the senate was supposed to act as a jury. Ecton cautioned that it would be improper for a senator who was supposed to sit on the jury to express advance opinions about impeachment.

Beating Enlisted Men

It has been hushed up by the navy, but the Norfolk, Va., shore patrol has been officially accused of kicking and beating servicemen and throwing them into the brig without their shoes.

These shocking charges were made in a confidential report by Rear Adm. F. N. Kivette, who was skipper of the aircraft carrier Midway until his promotion to admiral last month.

Kivette ordered his own investigation of the Norfolk shore patrol and sent a sharp report to the navy, charging that the Norfolk SP's were "arrogant, dictatorial, arbitrary, sometimes abusive and occasionally brutal."

Kivette's investigation was conducted by Ensign Robert E. Kenyon.

Commenting upon his subordinate's report, Admiral Kivette declared: "I believe these to be true and not isolated cases."

The admiral also added: "The very few but brief reports I have had concerning the condition of the shore patrol brig are calculated to induce nausea without a visual inspection."

Merry-Go-Round

Marriner Eccles, who has threatened to resign from the federal reserve board several times, now tells friends he has definitely made up his mind to leave the board on June 1. (A mistake—the government already is painfully short of good men.) . . . Al Hayes, president of the Machinists Union, is talking to other labor chiefs about publishing a daily labor newspaper. Jointly sponsored by the AFL and CIO, it would present the trade-union viewpoint on national issues.

Michigan Cherry Law Helps Industry

The Michigan Cherry Law, enacted in 1947 and operative for the first time on the 1948 crop, has proved to be tremendously beneficial to the entire cherry industry.

This law imposes a tax of one tenth of a cent per pound on all red tart cherries marketed through Michigan processors. It is purely voluntary, exemptions being allowed wherever formal written request is made by the grower, with funds thus acquired being used for advertising and marketing cherries.

This Program is managed by the Michigan Cherry Commission, a twelve man board made up of growers and processors appointed by the Governor. These Commissioners are named from leaders of the industry operating in the various cherry growing counties of the state. The Commissioners elect their own officers.

Michigan's cherry industry is an important part of our $800,000,000, state agricultural picture as we produce approximately 60% of all red tart cherries grown in the United States. The 1950 crop was in the neighborhood of 175,000,000 lbs.

That the Commission has done an outstanding job is borne out by several pertinent facts. First exemption requests have been comparatively few, with each succeeding year reducing the number. Secondly, the haphazard marketing of yesteryear has changed to a smooth functioning marketing program which has benefited the industry materially. And, thirdly, the judicious handling of the rather substantial fund derived from the voluntary tax, placing the emphasis on well planned advertising and public relations on both a national and local basis, has moved the bumper crop of the past three years profitably for grower and processor alike and has increased the past three years delicious fruit beyond the wildest hopes of the backers of this program.

A glance at the official financial report of Michigan's Cherry Commission appearing as a paid advertisement elsewhere in this paper will convince the most skeptical of the sagacity of this law.

Truman-MacArthur Fight Continues; Chinese Launch Spring Offensive

HOW DIVIDED THE NATION—There was no sign of a letup in the great quarrel on whether President Truman did right or wrong when he fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Pacific commands. If anything, the man on Main Street was hotter under the collar than ever before following the general's impressive speech before congress. The line of dispute was clearly drawn: The general's supporters believed his proposed plan of action in Asia the only possible realistic one; his opponents were just as positive his plan of action would mean world wide war. The great controversy caused many in the home towns to wonder just how divided can a nation become and still effectively battle communism?

Ticker-Tape Blizzard

Never before in the history of the U. S., or possibly in the history of the world, has a returning hero received such acclaim as Gen. Douglas MacArthur as he drove through a ticker-tape blizzard to the shouting of 7,500,000 people in New York. It was the climax of welcome home celebrations which began in San Francisco when the general returned to his native land for the first time in 14 years.

The two viewpoints on the Truman-MacArthur controversy were expressed by Senators Taft and Kerr. Senator Taft charged "the Truman administration is working both sides of the military and political street" and called for bombing of Chinese airfields and a naval blockade of her coast. Senator Kerr, on the other hand, said he is convinced MacArthur's military strategy "would hurl us downward to the awful road of total war."

THE MILITARY—General MacArthur in his speech before congress said the joint chiefs of staff concurred with his view on conduct of the war in Korea. This brought an immediate statement in which the joint chiefs said they had been unanimous in recommending the dismissal of MacArthur. The statement said: "Operations in the far east are being carried out in accordance with the views of the joint chiefs of staff. These views will be fully explained to the appropriate congressional committees. An analysis of the basic differences which exist between the joint chiefs of staff and General MacArthur will be presented at that time."

The man on Main Street had better hold on to his hat. Everything points to another explosion as the general and his brother officers go before the senate foreign relations and armed services committees to explain the conduct of the Korean conflict. The testimony will blow hot and cold. It will be up to the home-towner to sift it and find the truth.

THE UNITED NATIONS—Members of the United Nations, whether they were in agreement with General MacArthur's policy in the far east or not, were almost as impressed by the general's address as were members of congress.

But the general did not gain any votes in the U.N. for following his policy. His speech confirmed many delegates in the belief that a yawning gulf separates his concept of the way to defeat Communist imperialism and that of the United Nations. Only on one point was there any degree of accord—his demand for an intensified economic blockade of Communist China.

ON THE FRONT—And while the politicians ranted over how the Korean conflict should be conducted, the North Koreans and Chinese Reds opened their long awaited spring offensive. First reports from the front indicated a break-through in the mountainous central sector of Korea by an estimated 400,000 enemy troops. Approximately 300,000 others were reported attacking in other sectors of Korea.

First withdrawals amounted to as much as 15 miles, Allied officers reported, with the Chinese suffering heavy casualties. Nearly 9,000 Reds were killed or wounded by artillery alone on the first day of the attack, the eighth army estimated. Swarms of planes claimed an additional toll of nearly 2,000.

SALES TAX—The Committee of Americans, reportedly a nonprofit, fact-finding research-survey organization covering all 48 states and Hawaii, reports a recent survey indicated the majority of the nation's businessmen favor a retail-sales tax on the federal level.

The organization said it sent questionnaires to some 30,000 businessmen, of whom more than 15,000 replied. The businessmen were said to favor the sales tax by 62 per cent; 12 per cent for such a tax at the manufacturer's level; and 26 per cent opposed to any sales tax.

Whether or not the survey reached to the Main Street businessman was not indicated, but it could hardly be conclusive unless he was consulted.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game

Neither wars or threats of wars, politics or the acclaim of a conquering hero could dim the opening of the baseball season on the sandlot of the home towns to the major leagues. Sportminded Americans took time out for the greatest game of them all.

MAIN STREET BUSINESS—Hardware, dry goods and general merchandise, and jewelry stores on Main Street enjoyed a dollar sales increase during March of 1951 over the same month last year, the census bureau reported.

Hardware stores recorded a 22 per cent sales rise; dry goods and general merchandise stores a 20 per cent rise and jewelry stores a 15 per cent rise.

The agency said its figures were based on reports from about 10,000 independent stores. The department gave out no actual sales figures.

PROBER HAILS PRESS—Senator Kefauver, speaking before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, said his committee's celebrated investigation into crime could not have succeeded without the support of the nation's press.

The senator restated his theory that the place for "action against gamblers and other underworld elements is Main Street, not Pennsylvania Ave., Washington."

All the press joined in the effort of exposing crime, Kefauver said. "That spark was instrumental in setting off the explosion that has followed."

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE

1950 Marriage Rate Climbs 6 Per Cent

The U.S. public health service reported recently the marriage rate rose and the divorce rate dropped in the United States during the past year.

The agency's figures show the number of 1950 marriages—1,669,934 in all—rose nearly 6 per cent over 1949, the first increase since 1946. The total of 1950 divorces—estimated at 385,000—was the smallest since 1943. The drop was 3 per cent from the preceding year and marked the fourth successive year of declines. The agency gave no explanation for the increase in marriages or decrease of divorces.

Statisticians calculated that 11 out of every 1,000 men, women and children in the nation got married last year. Only 2½ of each 1,000 found it did not work out.

Friendly Extension Club

The Friendly Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Ethel Clark for their May meeting on Friday, May 4th. There were eleven members present.

The business meeting was spent mostly in voting on the desired program for the next year.

Leader Mrs. Gladys Bectold very ably instructed the members in weaving the seat on their footstools. Four stools were worked on. One was finished and the other three were close to completion.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Were The Trout You Caught Brook, Brown or Rainbow?

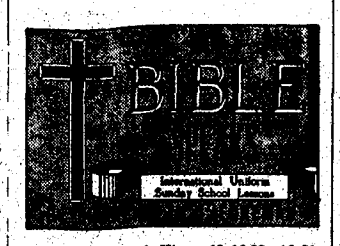

If you caught a trout could you tell whether it was a brook, brown or rainbow?

A surprising number or trout fishermen, roughly 40 percent, cannot, judging from a poll conducted by the conservation department's institute for fisheries research.

Over 300 trout fishermen working specially designated sections of the Pigeon and Rifle rivers and Hunt creek were asked to identify the three kinds of trout which were exhibited at checking stations. All three trout were correctly identified by 62 percent of those who co-operated in the test at the Pigeon river checking station; 56 percent of those at Hunt creek and 54 percent of those braving the test at the Rifle river station. A few declined to hazard a guess.

The institute reports 64 persons tripped on identifying the brown, 60 on the rainbow and 54 more had trouble choosing the brook trout.

How Nations Decay

Lesson for May 13, 1951

"THE mortality rate of nations is 100%." So Dr. T. W. Lingle used to put the fact that no nation yet has lived forever. They all die sooner or later. What kills them? The student of history may delve into such books as Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" or Spengler's pessimistic "Decline of the West", or Toynbee's more optimistic six-volume "Study of History."

Dr. Foreman

But when the juice has been squeezed out of these learned and interesting volumes, the Truth's essence turns out to be much the same as what we can find by reading the Old Testament. True, the nations under the Old Testament lens are not big empires like Rome, still less like the British Empire: the kingdom of Israel was only about 100 miles long and 60 miles wide, while the kingdom of Judah was smaller than many an American county.

Promise

WHEN Solomon died, the kingdom he had inherited from David had already shrunk. After his death, what was left immediately split into two kingdoms, the one on the south called Judah and the one in the north called Israel.

The nation of Israel, which lasted more than 200 years, began with great promise. Indeed, one of God's prophets (I Kings II) had given to Jeroboam, the first king, the same promise which had been given David, of an enduring kingdom on condition of obedience to God.

Everything seemed to be favorable. Israel had more territory than most of her neighbors had, a far more productive soil, and easy access to transportation.

Crash

ISRAEL should have succeeded; but it failed. Only a little more than 200 years afterwards, no very great age as nations go, it crashed completely, never to rise again. When the walls of its "impregnable" capital city of Samaria, after a two-year siege, fell to the battering-rams of the Assyrian army, and over 27,000 leading citizens were deported, that was the end of Israel for good and all.

How did this happen?

The Hebrew historian ties everything into a few words when he says that they wrought wicked things . . . they rejected God's statutes . . . they served idols.

But what were the details? What, in particular, did the nation of Israel do that was wicked?

Reading the prophet Amos will give many of the answers. At the time he preached, by all chamber-of-commerce standards Israel was at the peak of production and prosperity. But he foresaw doom around the corner, and he gave reasons He called a spade a spade. Reading him, or even reading the balder accounts in Kings, we can see the collapse was no mystery.

Other Gods

ONE thing fundamentally wrong with Israel was idolatry. This was not the simple matter of making carved images; it meant taking some other "god" to be the true God.

We know what the religions of Chemish and Molech and Baal were like; they were thoroughly bad. In the law of the true God, life and purity were regarded as sacred; life and purity under these other gods were held cheap. But one can see from reading Amos that what the people of Israel really worshipped was still another idol to whom no statue was erected: their own pleasures.

Too many citizens didn't care what happened to the country, so long as they could get their liquor. Well, let us not read the Old Testament from mere curiosity. What about our own nation, our own people and times? The United Stewardship Council (now the Joint Department of Stewardship of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.) reports that every year since 1934, excepting 1936, has shown an increase in giving through the churches.

But—the percent of this increase is not so large as the increase of annual income. The increase for contributions through the church of God is less, far less, than the increase in spending for alcoholic liquors, soft drinks, candy, football games, jewelry, and a multitude of other things. We, like Israel, are putting God last!

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Speculation on the appointment of Blair Moody to the chair vacated by the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg still buzzes around the Capitol City. Some say Williame seeks the vice-presidential nomination in 1952. At least he now has a booster full time in Washington.

But in any event the governor has stuck out his neck. Democratic leaders in the state are highly miffed and if Moody doesn't measure up to standards the party could drop its 40-year-old leader. It has happened before.

Fred M. Alger, Jr., is getting into the next gubernatorial race early. Now convinced he would have had the nomination in '50 if he hadn't hesitated too long, the secetary of state already makes it clear that he will be a candidate.

Most Republican circles now feel Alger would have beaten Williams in 1950 by pulling a heavier Detroit vote than Kelly drew.

A new process of electrically charging dust particles in fungicides and insecticides may revolutionize the flight against insects and plant disease. M.S.C. laboratory tests show charged dust particles give five to 10 percent better coverage. More tests are scheduled in the field this summer.

While beating the drum for a better Michigan, freshman legislator Robert E. Faulkner (R-Colma) says: "I will not be put into the position of a crime buster for local authorities". In stumping for a "little Kefauver" committee, Faulkner sticks by his guns and still says Grand Rapids is a bad, bad city.

The Michigan library board wants a separate library building. Stating it has been treated like a step-child, the board points out that no provision has been made for library quarters in the new state office building.

The state department of labor and industry reports the cost of living in the state soared to an all-time high in March of this year. Showing an increase of 3.6 percent, the index figure for Michigan is 170.2, a jump of 70.2 percent since Pearl Harbor.

Contractors have been warned that a rush in inrustrial construction for defense could push costs still higher. Skilled workers also will be needed—this means another influx of labor to Michigan.

Some 318,000 hunters harvested nearly 1,797,000 cotton tails during the 1950-'51 season. Previous season saw 351,000 persons take 1,970,00.

Pasture Aids Control of Worms in Poultry

Good pasture will help farme to control worms in chickens, M. Moore, extension poultrym Michigan State College, advis this week.

Worm control is the most i portant reason why a new pastu should be provided is concerne the most difficult job the poultr man faces is to develop healt well-grown replacement pulle for the laying house.

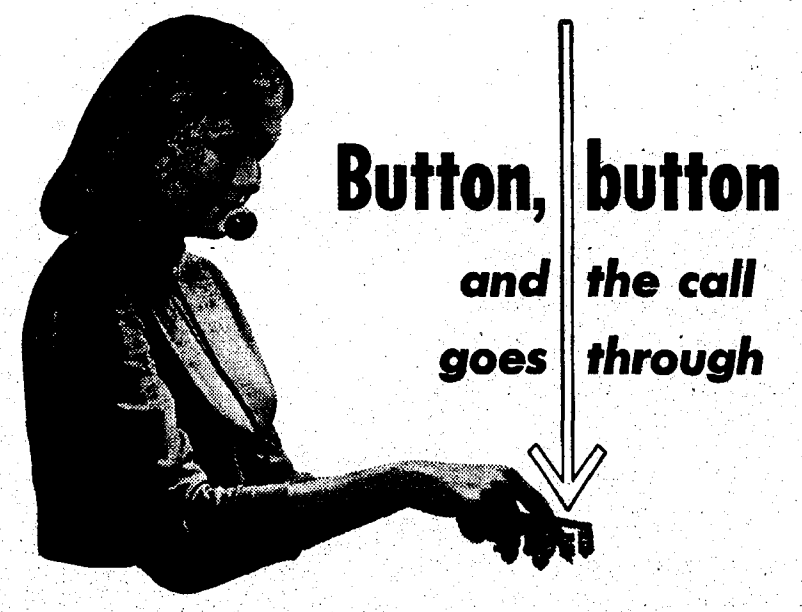

Some of the better pastu grasses are a brome-alfalfa mi ture or ladino—if the soil an temperature are suitable to ladin In the alfalfa-brome mixtur the brome provides early pastur while alfalfa is unsurpassed i providing a succulent green fee during the hot, dry part of th summer.

Any poultry pasture should b clipped or pastured by other farm animals occasionally so that new tender grass is always provide for the chickens, Moore advises Fibrous, dry, well-matured grasse are of little use for a poultr range.

Chickens are not good rangers the poultryman says. They wi go little distance from the summer shelter unless the feeders are al lowed to become empty part of the day. Unless the house is moved, they do not get full advantage of the pasture provided. Frequent moving of the brooding quarters, as well as feeders and waterers will bring the pasture to growing pullets.

The many benefits of a sound grassland program on farms will be features of the Grass Day programs, sponsored by Michigan State College and local agencies in six locations in the state during June.

Push buttons simplify a lot of jobs in this electric age.

Ten little push buttons now help Long Distance telephone operators handle more calls more quickly.

A customer gives the operator the out-of-town number. She swiftly presses several buttons, which correspond to the letters and numbers on a telephone dial, and the call goes straight through to the distant telephone.

That's the way it works in Detroit and a number of cities throughout the country. In many other places, including more than a dozen Michigan exchanges, telephone operators speed Long Distance calls by dialing direct to many points with regular dials.

Named "operator toll dialing," this new development is already used on 1½ million Long Distance calls daily and is steadily being expanded. Every minute it saves is important right now as the nation turns to the telephone to hurry our defenses.

To help speed your Long Distance call, please give the operator the out-of-town telephone number.

Kendergarten — Helen Severance

We went for a walk Monday. We saw the swan on her nest, the train, the cow Elsie in the store window and many tulips hyacinths, daffodils and dandelions.

Donny Bowerman brought his pet turtle to visit us. Its name is Susiebelle and it lives in a bowl with some stones and water in it.

Harry Howard brought a nice narcessus plant in a pretty red can.

Shary Sinclair brought us some lovely arbutus, forsythia and pussy willows.

FIRST GRADE — Mrs Brooks

All of our absentees except Ruth Greenier have returned to school.

Today we took the Metropolitan Achievement Test to find out if we are ready to begin Second Grade next year.

Darrell Bennett celebrated his seventh birthday by giving us a treat of candy and cookies. We made some pretty birthday cards for him.

Our bird book now contains; Scarlet Tanager, Bluejay, Goldfinch, Oriole, Red headed woodpecker, Wren and Robin, also the Weekly Reades issue on Baby Ducks and Geese.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Bowerman

Eddie Thompson brought some English and Netherlands coins for us to see. He brought some picture postcards from these countries.

We have been interested in a study of birds We have a nice collection of pictures and stories to put into our Bird Books.

We have been talking about hobbies. Several children have decided what they would like to collect or do during the summer. We will have a "Hobby Day" next fall to show our collections.

We are planning to entertain our mothers at a party this Friday afternoon.

SECOND Grade — Mrs. Johnson

Most of us have finished our reading work books.

Last Tuesday we made May baskets to take home to mother. We are going to put spring flowers in our basket before giving it to mother.

Last Wednesday was Frances Hayes' and Richard McKinnon's eighth birthday.

Both mothers treated the class to Dixie cups and fancy decorated cup cakes. This was such a nice surprise and we thank Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. McKinnon. The class made birthday cards for Frances and Richard and sang the happy birthday song.

We have started the covers for our last spelling booklet that we will make this school year. We are using flower designs for the cover.

Our room looks very spring like with so many pretty bouquets of spring flowers around the room

Both Harold Murray and Larry Schumacher have new baby brothers.

The girls from our room who attended the Mother and daughter banquet last Thursday evening were: Judy Malpass, Catherine Kamradt, Jean Kraemer, Suzie Stinchcomb, Donald Scott, Judith Gokee and Judith Jankoviak.

New room helpers were chosen last Friday.

Mr. Grauel came to our room and talked to us about Canada. He told us about their schools, and their government. He said much of Canada does not get as cold as East Jordan. He also told us that Canadians do not have as much monew to spend for amusement.

For health we are studying how accidents by fire and water can be avoided; also how to have a safe and happy vacation. In arithmetic we are learning how to use decimal fractions. We found that we have been using them for a long time in money problems. The decimal still cause some trouble.

ANGLING ANGLES by old Hi

When the ice is out of the northern lakes, hundreds of anglers invade the mountains to fish for lake trout. Call them togue, gray trout, Mackinaw trout, or Great Lakes trout, they'll give you plenty of brisk action on light tackle in the Spring.

There's real adventure in going after big lakers at this season, for you can catch them by trolling or casting along the shores, in fairly shallow water, where they fight hard due to the cold temperatures. And they usually strike with a rush, for they are hungry and won't let any choice chow escape them.

To have the best sport, Old Hi suggests you use the "Columbia" tubular glass fresh water trolling rod, with the tip measuring about 6 feet in length. This is a fine all-purpose rod for Spring trolling, and is equally suitable for the medium sized Chinook and silver salmon of the West such as are found in Puget Sound.

For even livelier, more ticklish action, troll with a 3-piece "Ranger" tubular glass fly rod, using a streamer fly or small, wriggly plug for a lure. This rod is 9 feet long and weighs 6 ounces, and is sturdy enough for the light lures mentioned when the trolling is done over the shallow rocky and sandy bottoms.

With the first rod named, you would want one of the new "Sea Level" level wind reels with capacity for 150 yards of the recently developed nylon cuttyhunk line of 9 thread size.

This is a super special nylon cuttyhunk line that won't kink, swell, or fray, and is just the ticket for long-line angling for big lakers and salmon.

If you handle the glass fly rod, attach either a Sportcraft single action fly reel or an automatic reel, with 60 yards of Dry Flite level nylon fly line of size G or H, and 6 or 9 feet of around 15 pound test continuous length nylon leader material.

These rigs will make trolling for lake trout an exciting event, due to the action afforded. Likely you can find this tackle in your local sporting goods store, but if not then drop a letter to Old Hi, in care of this newspaper, and I'll put you on the right track.

At the same time ask for your free copy of my booklet "Fishing For The Millions," for in it you'll find lots of good dope on how to tease these elusive lakers into your net.

Did you know that on Aug. 28, 1949 at Manteo, Calif., a man by the name of August Livenais, Jr., cast a four ounce lead 735 feet, 10 inches by means of a surf casting outfit? This is the official world's record surf cast . . . and quite a toss!

Surf casting is extremely popular and effective on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. It accounts for good catches of such battlers as striped bass, weakfish, bluefish, and croakers Old Hi suggests you send for his free copies of "Salt Water Sports Fishing" and "Pacific Coastal Fishing" and read the chapters on surf casting.

Come To The Land of Shining Waters

Michigan's tourist and resort industry is spotlighted this month in an advertisment that is being published nationally by Consumers Power Company.

The ad calls to prospective vacationists to "Come to the Land of Shining Waters," and speaks of Michigan's resort centers, festivals, thousands of inland lakes, trout streams, and millions of acres of woods as "lovely as something imagined."

Part of Consumers series of nationally reproduced messaoges on behalf of Michigan as a place to work and play the ad first appeared in Business Week May 5, and will appear in Time May 14 and the Sunday New York Times May 20.

Among the many attractions for tourists the ad emphasizes the state's thousands of miles of concrete highways "edging the lakes and traversing every part of the two great Michigan peninsulas."

The advertisement is illustrated with a sunny photograph of Lake Michigan, besides which a pair of tourists are silhouetted.

This month's ad featuring the tourist industry follows a long series of advertisements highlighting the industrial advantages of specific locations in Outstate Michigan.
